Hay, hops and horses

It was a time when "hay, hops and horses" dominated the Valley's business scene. This view was of First Street in Livermore, looking west toward Pleasanton. The dirt street, the generous overhang from the store fronts, and the horses tied to stancheons along the curb, all were typical of that era.

This print is carried in salute to "the birth of Town of Livermore" ... a happening in April of 1876. Pleasanton was incorporated as a city 18 years later.

VMH doctors option?

Practice minus insurance eyed

LIVERMORE — Physicians practicing without malpractice insurance — a suggestion that only a year ago would have been unthinkable — may become an option for Valley Memorial Hospital doctors facing an increase in malpractice insurance premiums on May 1.

The proposal, aired by the VMH board of directors' administrative committee at the board's last meeting, is an attempt to avoid a physicians' walkout similar to the one that crippled VMH last May.

Details of the proposal must be refined, and the board will review it at the April meeting.

But the proposal generally calls for temporary suspension of a VMH requirement that all physicians practicing at the hospital carry malpractice insurance.

The mandatory provision would be suspended from May 1 to September, granting the administration the right to waive the requirement in cases of particular hardship.

Approximately 60 per cent of the VMH physicians face insurance premium increases on May 1.

New rates may be as high as $24,000 per year, increasing from $6,000 or $8,000 the year before.

Suspension of the mandatory requirement will give physicians time to decide whether or not — and how — to pay their new bill.

According to VMH Chief of Staff Dr. Claude Burdick, relatively few physicians will opt to practice without insurance.

"The great majority of the physicians will be insured," said Dr. Burdick. "During the interim period there will be a lot of soul - searching, but most of the physicians will pay up and hope things get better."

Anesthesiologists, Dr. Burdick said, won't give anesthesia to patients of any uninsured doctors.

But at least one VMH physician has decided he cannot afford the new tab and refuses to practice without insurance. That doctor has decided to leave practice.

Dr. Burdick suggested that some obstetricians, traditionally regarded as in a low risk category, have found their premiums increased significantly.

"Now they're being charged the same rate as anesthesiologists and neurosurgeons," said Dr. Burdick. "And in their field, it's not so easy to pass the increases on to the patients."

Some of these doctors, Dr. Burdick said, may decide to proceed without insurance.

Even with the new increases, Dr. Burdick said this May would not be anything like last May.

"The doctors can't afford to go through another strike," he said. "A lot of practices were so weakened financially by last year's strike they couldn't tolerate another."

Dr. Burdick said the publicity generated by the strike was "useful and probably necessary," but he added the physicians found they had hurt "themselves, the patients and the hospital" in the process.

This year, he said, "our object is not to bankrupt the hospital, which might be the first notable effect of a walkout."

Dr. Burdick said physicians practicing without insurance were still subject to the risk of being sued.

Asked what would happen to a physician sued successfully for malpractice, Dr. Burdick cited the case of one out - of - town physician in just that position.

"The collector showed up every Friday and carried away half the week's receipts," he said.

A physician without malpractice insurance might be forced to declare bankruptcy, rendering the judgment an "empty verdict," Dr. Burdick said.

He noted the board and the staff "don't like the idea" of practicing without insurance, but they have decided to "go along till something happens."

That "something," Dr. Burdick hopes, will be "results from Sacramento."

"There's a workable law in Indiana," he said, "and we hope eventually — in the next year or two — something can be worked out in California." — by Karen Boyle

Traffic impact is chief concern for Presbyterian church's move

PLEASANTON — Traffic impact seems to be the only serious environmental concern about the move of the Presbyterian Community Church, according to Planning Aide Brian Swift.

Swift wrote the negative declaration for the city which is being offered in lieu of an environmental impact report. Swift and Planning Director Robert Harris felt that an environmental impact report is not needed in the church's move from First and Neal Streets to Mirador Drive because the city already has a good view of what problems will be created by the more intenstive use of the Mirador site, said Swift.

Residents who disagree with that estimation have until April 12 to ask the city council to require filing of an environmental impact report on the new church location.

An environmental impact report "won't do that much," said Swift. The city already is aware that Kottinger Street, a feeder from First Street to the new site, should be widened between First and Second Streets, he said.

The intersection at First Street also presents a problem on the south side, according to Traffic Engineer Ken Lamb. It's at a 66 degree angle from Kottinger Avenue (as you look left) and sometimes it's hard to see oncoming traffic, although since the city banned parking near the corner, it's better, said Lamb.

The city had the Kottinger Avenue widening on a list of traffic priorities slated for federal subsidies, but bumped it off in favor of a pedestrian bridge at West Las Positas Boulevard over Interstate 680 recently. Current status of the Kottinger Avenue widening is "in limbo," said Lamb.

Lamb noted that while traffic could bunch up on Kottinger Avenue after Sunday services, it would be for a very limited period of time each Sunday.

The only other major traffic impact of the church move will be on Mirador Drive in front of the site which now contains the church's education building. The city can handle tha the Mirador Drive problems in the design review state of planning for the church move, said Swift.

(The old church and social hall each will be lengthened 20 feet and placed on a "daylight basement," doubling the church's current capacity, according to Pastor Robert Vogt.)

City Traffic Engineer Ken Lamb indicated he is aware that a traffic problem is a possibility at the new site, which is located on the crest of a hill.

Pulling out of the site's parking lot and turning left puts a driver just below the crest of the hill and could invite rear - end traffic accidents, said Lamb. There is an intersection ahead of that spot and the dual move by the driver — checking the rear view mirror for cars behind and scanning the crosswalk ahead for pedestirians — is not a good thing, said Lamb.

One way of overcoming the problem is to install a "right turn only" sign at the parking lot exit. This probably would force more traffic after services down Kottinger Avenue and possibly Vineyard Avenue because people who came to church via Neal Street wouldn't have an easy return to Neal Street.

Also of concern to Lamb at the church site is the Del Sol Street crosswalk. It's obscured by the peak in Mirador Avenue and if pedestrians are going to cross Mirador, they should do it a block further down at Bonita Avenue, said Lamb.

Besides the "right turn only," sign and the encouragement of Bonita Avenue as a crosswalk for pedestrians, the best way to assure traffic safety there is through education, said Lamb. "The attitude of the people in the area can affect the situation," he said. by Ron McNicoll

Valley 'clear' in '75

Major drop in air pollution

The Amador - Livermore Valley experienced the Bay Area's "most dramatic reduction" in oxidant pollution in 1975.

The Valley recorded just 28 days in 1975 when the federal standard for oxidant was exceeded. In 1974 this Valley had been charged with 65 days when the oxidant level exceeded that federal standard.

Oxidants — the "chemical reaction resulting from a mixture of organics and nitrogent dioxide" — is the only air pollutant traced in this basin to any significant degree. The Bay Air Pollution Control District says the oxidants result largely from contaminants imported into this basin "where they are trapped in your inverted bowl and then heated by the Valley's long periods of sunshine."

In 1974, the monitoring station at Livermore recorded the Bay Area's highest number of "excessive days" for oxidant. In 1975, monitoring stations at Alum Rock, Los Gatos and San Jose all exceeded the Livermore oxidant level, and Hayward matched this Valley's "28 excessive days" report. Fremont, Walnut Creek, Gilroy and Napa all had over 20 days in 1975 when the federal oxidant level was exceeded.

Many of those other air basins also have been charged with exceeding one or more of the other "smog" standards, but the Amador-Livermore Valley has remained largely clear of carbon monoxide, nitrogen dioxide, sulphur dioxide and suspended particulates.

No 'official fair booklet'

Fair program space pitch hoax

Representations being made to Valley merchants by a salesman who says he is selling space "in the official Alameda County Fair program" are false.

That is the word today from both the County Fair office and the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce.

"There is no 'official fair program' that seeks advertising from the business sector in this manner," explained Peter Bailey, assistant to the Fair Manager.

Chamber manager Chan Henderson confirmed that "there is no one fair program as far as the chamber is concerned," and added that "we're anxious to talk to the fellow making these claims."

Local newspapers have traditionally published "County Fair Sections" that include the full daily events' schedule and related story and photo matter. The Times own "1976 Fair Edition" will be distributed throughout the Valley on June 25.

School jockeys Dolan site options

DUBLIN — Assistant Superintendent Heinz Gewing presented nine options for an intermediate school to school board members and an audience of 75 Tuesday night.

Gaewing emphasized the nine options were the composite thinking of district principals and central office administration.

He said that all considered the nine "second best choices" to a new school on the Dolan site in Silvergate.

Construction of a seventh - eighth grade school on that site was side tracked following a defeat by voters of a $1 million bond issue March 2, and a turn down of funding by the State Allocations Board.

The nine options, which could be added to many times again in the coming months, include the following:

1) Status quo.
2) Convert one K-8 to 7-8.
3) Wells-Cronin become a 7-8 complex.
4) All schools become K-8.
5) Convert a K-8 to 7-8 and redistrict other K-6 and portables.
6) Combine Dublin-Nielsen 7-8, leave Wells and Donlon.
7) K-5 plus 6-8 combination or other option.
8) One seventh grade school, one eighth grade school.
9) Donlon to Cronin, combine Nielsen and Dublin, close Cronin.

The options will be discussed at Thursday's Parent Advisory Committee meeting.

Later in a discussion of the options, board member Bob Foster noted Proposition 1 which will be on the State-wide ballot June 8. If passed, it would provide districts with funds to purchase and utilize portables.

Foster indicated this might be a viable way for the district to solve its housing problems.

He said that of all district schools, only Donlon and Lydiksen had increased in enrollment between 1972 and the present.

'Texas Ranch Committee' — a significant milestone

(The following article is the second of two on teaching procedures and methods as utilized at Pleasanton Middle School. Author is Tom Leonard, instructor in individual reading at the school.)

Participative management's greatest milestone at Pleasanton Elementary began about two years ago when the "Texas Ranch Committee" began to lay the groundwork for the A-B schedule, an education concept observed some years earlier by many of the school's teachers at another bay area school.

The name "Texas Ranch" signified the desire of the committee membership — well over half Pleasanton Elementary's teachers — to build a new education format starting from the vantage point of wide - open horizons.

The result has been successful enough to win large majority acceptance from all key factions: students, teachers, parents, administrators.

"A-B" refers to an alternating scheduling routine, basic English, and math skills, two of the students' eight classes, are taken every day all year for about the normal period - length time. But all other classes are rotated, three one day, three the next day, each class lasting 75 minutes. The extended class time is ideal for most classes, allowing plenty of time for project work and traditionally time - crammed physical education classes.

Because the A-B schedule operates on a tri-mester basis — most classes lasting 12 weeks — the field is open for a wide variety of electives including rocketry, 20th Century America, filmmaking, crafting, and drama. Three-year long foreign language classes — Spanish, French, and German are offered.

But the system, replete as it is with exciting, sometimes rather unusual electives, does not sacrifice the "basics." Beside the daily skills classes in English and mathematics, all students are required to take a set number of electives in each of the reading, writing, science and social studies areas sometime during their two years in the seventh and eighth grades.

It was recognized from the start by the Texas Ranch Committee that many students, no matter at what age level, would find A-B a bit bewildering, maybe even downright frightening. Because of this concern, the idea of the "Teacher Advisory Group" was utilized, an idea not new at Pleasanton (Foothill High School has had TAG for some time), but ideally suited to help A-B run smoothly and keep the children from feeling that they were on a treadmill.

There are 42 TAGs at Pleasanton Elementary this year. In the seventh and eighth grades there are about 20 students to a TAG and almost every certificated staff member, including principal Ron Alsup, has his or her group.

The TAG's meet every morning before classes for bulletin announcements and attendance - taking but these are only routine "homeroom" functions. The TAG's were set up for much broader purposes.

The adult in the TAG is an unofficial counselor, not just another teacher giving lessons or report card grades. He is a friend, someone to talk with about your troubles, someone who always knows you're around.

In fact, if you haven't been around for a week or so, he is likely to call home to see how you are.

The adult's official duties include helping students plan for the next tri-mester, checking to see that group members are fulfilling their graduation requirements, and keeping tabs on problems TAG members might be having with grades or with teachers.

But beyond all the official duties is the all-important task of trying to help the young people in his or her group feel as secure as possible in their two years in the A-B program.

Participative management is the underlying philosophy that made A-B and TAG's and the whole Texas Ranch Committee possible.

Alsup feels that participative management, necessitating as it does an endless series of time and energy - consuming committee meetings, makes life tougher for both administration and teachers.

But, he says, being on the receiving end of so much staff input makes him a better manager.

National Library Week celebrated in Valley

Hey, bibliophiles, April 4 through April 10 is National Library Week!

The Livermore Public Library and the Dublin and Pleasanton branches of the Alameda County Library System are taking this opportunity to offer special programs designed to increase public interest in their libraries.

National Library Week is an annual event sponsored by libraries across the country to create a "better read, better informed public by encouraging lifetime reading habits."

Three special programs are planned by the Pleasanton library.

On April 7 at 7:30 p.m., a macrame and fiber arts demonstration will be presented by Pleasanton artists Billie Schmer and Barbara Van Slyke.

The event is for adults and will be held in the library meeting room.

Two "glue-ins for kids" will be held, co-sponsored by the Pleasanton Library League.

Children will be provided with cartons, boxes, fabric, glitter and lots of glue to create unique art objects.

A glue-in for pre-school age children is scheduled for April 8 from 10 to 11 a.m.

A glue-in for school-age children will be held Saturday April 10 from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

The Pleasanton Library League will be on hand at different times throughout the week to serve coffee to library patrons. They will ask adults to join the Library League, donation $1 per year.

The league sponsors a book sale each year, and assist in other library programs.

At Dublin, a children's "vote for your favorite book" contest is now in progress.

Children are invited to drop their nominations for favorite book and author at the library's polling box in the children's section.

More than 40 titles have been received so far, and the winner will be announced April 8.

Courtesy of the Friends of Dublin Library and library staff, coffee and cookies will be offered throughout National Library Week.

Interested persons are invited to join the Friends of Dublin Library during the week. Membership is $1 per year. The Dublin group sponsors an annual book sale.

The Livermore Public Library has planned a busy week of activities.

Livermore Rotarians will be presented with a list of new library acquisitions related directly to business.

On Thursday, the library'sregular story hour will be taped by Channel 8 television for later airing.

A number of nursery and elementary school classes will be touring the library throughout the week.

And the librarians have posted a special display honoring the national event.

Since April is also Youth Art Month, the artwork of children in the Livermore school system has been prominently displayed. Students are invited to visit the library to see if their artwork has been selected.

And if you're wondering what "bibliophile" means — visit the library this week and find out.

Agnes Bardin of Dublin admires the books and fabric display "Books are Where You Find Them" at the Dublin library. The display is part of the library's commemoration of National Library Week. Special events are scheduled in all three valley libraries. (Times photo.)

Wooden backstop is issue at Granada tennis courts

LIVERMORE — Concern over the wooden backstop for handball being put in along the Granada High School campus tennis courts has been voiced by Livermore Area Recreation and Park District (LARPD) Board President Marlin Pound.

Pound, who learned of the project after its start, expressed fears the wooden backstop would be noisy due to reverberation of balls hitting it and also cause consternation amoung the city's tennis players.

He also was disturbed that the school district did not notify the Recreation District in advance of the project as is their usual policy.

Pound pointed to a similar wooden backstop installed at May Nissen Park some years ago and ordered removed after LARPD was sued because of the noise created when balls were hit against it.

According to Rudy D'Ambra, director of facilities for the Livermore Valley Unified School District, the lack of notification to the Park District was an oversight.

"It wasn't deliberate not to notify them," he explained. "It was just one of those things that just happened ... In retrospect, it would have been easier to notify them."

D'Ambra said the backstop will be about 80 feet long, 10 feet high and six to eight inches wide. The cost of construction is about $9,000 and a similar backstop is being installed at Livermore High School, he said.

He noted there is a need for the facility by the school for its programs.

Granada High School vice principal Gary Kenny defended the project, noting it would serve several functions — a backstop for practicing tennis as well as handball and a windbreaker.

"It will serve many functions," Kenny said. "Tennis players like to practice by hitting a ball against a wall or backstop and it also can be used for a handball court for physical education and recreation."

Kenny said he did not notify LARPD of the project because he took it for granted the Recreation District was aware of what was happening because it was part of the school building project bond elzction.

As to the noise concern expressed by Pound, he said, "you might have a problem there."

LARPD is responsible for capital improvements and the overall maintenance of campus tennis courts, according to Pound.

His concern also stemmed partly from the fact a tennis tournament was scheduled for the court yesterday.

According to one school official, the project was to be started following the rainy season and he added the timing was unfortunate in that the contractor began right before the tournament.

An LARPD official has expressed concern over the wooden backstop going in along these Granada High School campus tennis courts.

Aquathenics or water exercises

Tone-up for tired bodies is fun for all lifestyle

By LILLY AULT

Answering a classified ad in the Pleasanton Times four years ago led Pam McIver of Pleasanton to a fun permanent part-time job.

"When I answered the ad," said Pam, "I didn't expect to be involved with the program this long, but it is so much fun I keep with it. Besides, I can get a nice tan, enjoy the water, which I love and stay trim. It's also neat with my children as I can schedule my time and have free days to be with them."

Pam is a director with Aquathenics. She started out by taking a rigorous training program designed to give a sound and thorough knowledge of exercises in water. She also was required to get her Red Cross Senior Life Saving and a First Aid Certificate which has to be kept current.

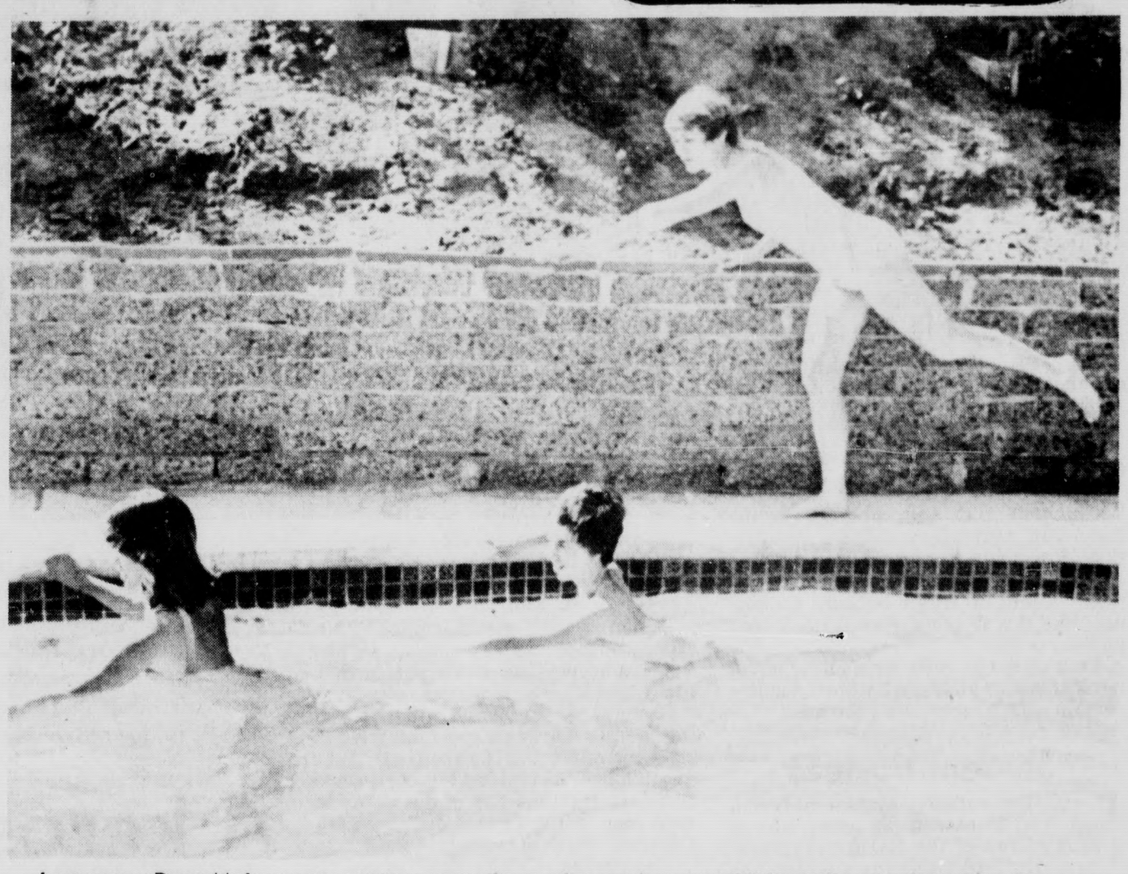
Aquathenics is a series of exercises designed to give every major muscle group in the body a thorough workout. Doing exercises in water gives the participant more of a workout pushing against the water; resistance is gentle and uniform, thus giving a massage to moving limb; the bouyant force of water makes it necessary to constantly stabilize oneself which results with every major muscle group in the body, gently, automatically or reflexively exercised.

Aquathenics directs exercise to all parts of the body, but problem areas can easily get special attention.

Aquathenics is a physical conditioning program for men and women from age 8 to 80.

"Weight loss does not usually occur from exercise alone," Pam said, "but persons can expect loss of inches from body measurements if they keep the program up as it tones the muscles. You can't exercise one day, forget and then go back weeks later and expect results."

Over 150 directed water exercises are performed to a rhythmic count in a one hour workout. No swimming is required. The exercises are performed in four feet of water with each exercise repeated five to 10 times each. A basic program consist of one hour exercises for four weeks with 12 lessons. Variations of this procedure are also held. Cost varies depending on the program offered. The exercises tone and strengten muscles, relieve tension and improve body proportions.



Instructor Pam McIver sets a trim example as she works out with her class in Aquathenics — water exercises to tone and strengthen muscles, relieve tension and improve body proportions.

In addition to the exercise program, students are given the opportunity to purchase a book entitled "Fun with Aquatic Calisthenics" which contains easy directions and simplified illustrations to the exercises.

"The book, according to Pam, helps the student to "get it all together." In Pam's opinion, it usually takes about three times in the water before the students know the exercise and what it does for a particular part of the body and how to do it.

"There are four positions required in order to use all the muscles," said Pam. "The program has a flow to it, top to bottom and in and out. Doing the exercises correctly is very important," stated Pam.

The young trim director, a perfect example for her program, does not limit the sessions to just exercise. "We also talk about diets, make-up and give some beauty tips," said Pam. Pam went on to explain although she has always been thin, her friends have noticed a difference in her appearance. "I weigh exactly the same," she remarked, "but my muscles are well toned. I, as well as my students, notice we have a lot more energy after the program as it takes out the 'sluggishness' so many people feel."

Pam has been giving lessons to a group of ladies between the ages of 45 and 65 for three years and she says "they all enjoy it so much and say they feel so good they want to continue it forever."

Besides being involved with Aquathenics, Pam is a member of the Pleasanton Junior Women's Club, serving as the Ways and Means chairperson this year. She also takes part in the Kinderkirk pre-school co-op and has shared this responsibility for four years, working three days of the week.

Persons interested in taking part in an Aquathenics program or interested in being an instructor for a program should contact Pam at 846-9119.

Look Younger For Springtime

Spring is the season when your spirits lift as you look forward to pleasant weather after a long, dreary winter. But springtime, with its sudden wind gusts and rapid changes of temperature can be hard on your skin, drying it so you can look older than you'd like. You can look older than necessary as early as your twenties, you know. Nature's own supply of moisture and oil has begun to slow down by then, so your skin becomes dryer and its radiant youthful appearance may start to slip away.

The past winter probably hasn't helped either. Look what you've put your skin through! You've gone between icy outdoor weather and drying indoor heat over and over again. That's like taking your face through all the climates of the world day after day. An honest look in your mirror will show you what winter has done to your skin.

Happily, you can begin to look your youngest for springtime almost before the first crocuses bloom. Join the younger-looking women of all ages from many parts of the world who share the secret of a remarkable beauty fluid that helps every woman look her youngest.

This unique beauty fluid, discovered by beauty connoisseurs, is known in the United States as Oil of Olay beauty lotion. The remarkable fluid works with nature in a mysterious way to ease away skin dryness so you can look just as young as you can.

Oil of Olay acts like your own natural moisture to work on dryness. Pure moisture and tropical oils penetrate your skin's surface deeply and astonishingly quickly, with never a greasy afterfeel. You'll see your skin grow softer and smoother almost the moment you soothe on the skin-loving liquid.

Oil of Olay, faithfully every morning, under makeup or to give your skin a moist environment. Again, faithfully, every night.

You'll find Oil of Olay at your drugstore. You may get the beautiful feeling that your skin is living in an ideal moisty, misty eternal spring.

Spring Beauty Secret

As the weather improves, you'll be more on the go. Be sure that Oil of Olay® travels with you everywhere, in your purse or suitcase.

Ford: No on 15

Citing the extreme national impact of a potential moratorium on nuclear energy, President Gerald R. Ford last week announced his opposition to Proposition 15, the nuclear initiative on the June 8 California ballot.

In a question and answer session in Washington, D.C. with members of the American Agriculture Editors Association, President Ford said that he was opposed to Proposition 15, noting its passage "would be tragic because California, like the 49 other states, does need nuclear power."

Proposition 15 calls for a phase out of nuclear power plants in California unless certain safety regulations are met.

Student trustees

Legislation authored by Assemblyman Floyd Mori to extend the terms of student trustees of the California State University and Colleges system has passed the Assembly.

The bill, AB 2932, will now go to the Senate for ratification.

The bill would lengthen the term of a student member of the trustees to two years. Currently a student member is appointed by the Governor for a single year.

Mori said his bill would enable student representatives to use what they have learned while still in office. One year is not enough time for students to adequately represent their peers, Mori said.

Mori's bill also provides that any student vacancy on the trustees can be filled only for the remainder of the unfulfilled term.

Kinney on New Town

PLEASANTON — In a statement issued yesterday, Ed Kinney, candidate for the board of directors of Zone 7, denounced the "extreme opposite positions" of both developer Harlan Geldermann and the "Futch/Miller Non-Growthers" in the developmental plans for the Las Positas Valley.

Geldermann has proposed the creation of Las Positas, a new town concept to be developed in the Las Positas Valley north of Livermore.

Former Livermore City Councilmen Archer Futch and Donald Miller are candidates for seats on the Zone 7 board of directors.

Kinney called Gerldermann's New Town concept "as extreme in development concepts" as ideas put forth by Futch and Miller.

Kinney said Futch and Miller have attempted to "strangle the land from development by withholding water availability" as typified by "their severe restrictions on the size of the water service pipe to the Chabot College Valley Campus" north of Interstate 580.

Gelderville, Kinney said, is an "overreaction to unrealistic restraints placed on the Las Positas Valley by the Futch/Miller controlled Livermore City Council."

Three seats on the Zone 7, Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, board of directors are up for election on June 8.

Vincent events

Irene Vincent, candidate for Alameda County Supervisor, First District, has announced her campaign schedule for the coming week.

Thp public is invited to attend the following events:

Apr. 7, 8 p.m., Meet the Candidate meeting at the home of Mrs. Fran Williams, 2399 Woodthrush Way, Pleasanton.

A parade from our past

There are those Valley oldtimers who will tell you "There has always been a parade in these parts, for one reason or another." This one combined the best efforts of Livermore and Pleasanton, it appears. That's Mayor Harold W. "Hansie" Hansen of Livermore rising from his chair aboard that float to salute the crowd, which came to honor the Alameda County Fair Parade in downtown Pleasanton. The balance of the Livermore council completed that entry, all bringing their straight - back wooden chairs from the council chambers for the occasion. The "5 - 10 - and - 15" store shared the building on South Main Street that also housed Frudden's Grocery. The era is the late 1930's, and was perhaps one of the first Fair Parades following the exposition's revival in 1936.

A kerosine lantern provided her light

LIVERMORE — When June Healey moved her typewriter into brand - new Granada High School 13 years ago, she changed the ribbon by the light of an old kerosene lamp.

"They say they're going to gold - plate it for me when I retire," Mrs. Healey chuckled Friday, dusting off its aluminum handle. Workmen from Granada High had just found a cache of the World War II emergency lanterns and they brought one to her as a joke when they discovered her part of the school was temporarily without electricity.

"Building 100 had heat. Building 200 had light. And Jack Lee, the principal, went down the corridors ringing an old bell we got from May School to announce the changing of periods."

Mrs. Healey has "seen a lot," she says, in her 20 years as a school district secretary. Thursday, she marked her 20th anniversary with the district — secretly, until Dee Damon, secretary to Superintendent Leo Croce, sent her a vase of yellow carnations and let the cat out of the bag.

Mrs. Healey originally worked for the Livermore High School District in the days before Livermore's various school districts unified into one district spanning 280 square miles.

She was one of the high school district's two secretaries. After seven years, she moved with Jack Lee, then vice principal of Livermore High, to the district's second high school which had just been built in a cow pasture and was in the middle of a fast - growing section of town.

They started Granada with 447 students. Next year, Mrs. Healey will be seeing 2,250 teen - agers pour through the doorsof her school.

Not to mention the hundreds of teachers, counselors, administrators and parents who come through the office, turning the lively strawberry - blonde secretary into a combination of troubleshooter, advisor, information bureau and sympathizer.

Meanwhile, she has had time to raise three sons — twins Mike and John Estes, now Pleasanton residents, and Steven Estes, who settled in Israel with his wife. Among them, the "boys" have provided six grandchildren.

Mrs. Healey is troubled with a touch of bursitis in her left wrist, but otherwise has not been slowed down by her years on the job. She's looking forward to playing golf more and traveling with her retired husband, John, after she retires in two years or so.

Meanwhile, she "likes every bit" of her work and shows up as early as 6:30 a.m. for a job that's supposed to be 7 to 3:30.

Every once in awhile something does remind her of how long she's been around the district.

"What really shakes you up," she reports, "is to see somebody who you knew as a student, come back as a teacher — like Hal Sinclair, who now teaches business at Granada.

"And, what's worse: Now Hal's twins are freshmen at Livermore High!

"Makes you realize how fast time flies."

Total salaries paid amounted to $102.3 million in round numbers.

As of November 1975, 56.3 per cent of all lab staff members lived in Livermore and 7.2 per cent lived in Pleasanton.

There are 5,695 employes at LLL.

Amador Class of '60 gathers for reunion at Sunol Valley

One-hundred and twenty-seven Class of 1960 members, their spouses, and teachers attended the Amador Valley High class reunion held late last month at Sunol Valley Country Club.

The evening was highlighted by presentation of engraved silver plaques to graduates for special remembrance.

Those receiving awards were Phyllis Brooks Elliott of Bellevue, Wash., for having traveled the farthest, Joann Edgren Lawson, who's had the most children (she and her husband have five daughters), Frank Texeira and his wife who have the youngest child (born Feb. 9, 1976), and Buddy Hall and his wife Joan who have been married the longest (February of 1960).

A surprise presentation of an award was made to Gary Reis who served as committee chairman for all his work in making the reunion a big success.

Others who worked along with Gary, who initiated the idea of a reunion, were Fred and Jacki Martin, Francis Way, Ida Hartman, Bob and Sandy Caldeira, Gary and Diane Larsen, Rosanne Putt, Charlie Inderbitzen, and Penny Reis.

There were 69 of the Class of 1960 present. Of those attending the reunion, 35 graduated together from eighth grade at Pleasanton Elementary in 1956, one from Murray School in Dublin and four from Sunol Glen School.

Teachers attending the reunion, who were on the faculty in 1960, included George Jacobsen, Robert McFate, and Charles Volonte, and their wives.

Each couple had their picture taken to be put in a booklet containing names and addresses of all the alums. The committee dedicated the reunion and booklet to the memory of those students who have passed away. Their pictures will appear on the first page of the booklet.

Those students are Robert Griffitts, Diane McMillan, Richard Pinto, Eugene Hernandez, and Kay Collings Montellano.

Livermore softball league to welcome outside teams

LIVERMORE — The Livermore Softball Association will be allowed to operate its league with more than a quarter of its teams from outside the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District (LARPD) on a one-year trial basis.

LARPD policy requires leagues to consist of at least 75 per cent District residents but the board of directors in a special meeting Friday afternoon granted an exception to the Softball Association. The program will be run on a one-year trial basis, subject to LARPD review.

Of the Association's 20 teams, seven are from outside the District with players from other valley vicinities. The vote on the exception request was 4-0, Director Les Knott was absent when the vote was taken.

According to LARPD Board President Marlin Pound, the exception was granted to the Association to help foster interest in its programs.

He also noted the Association hopes to promote a valley-wide league which, if the number of teams from each town's recreation district were about equal, would mean all the agencies could help accommodate the teams.

The Livermore Softball Association will play its games at the Recreation Center starting at dusk and three at a time to allow the District more flexibility for other nights, Pound said.

In other business conducted at the special meeting, the District agreed to allow a private landowner with property abutting the park behind the Ravenswood Estate to put in a small gate for access to the fenced-in park.

The gate, which may be no wider than three feet, will be installed at the owners' expense and locked at all times, according to Pound.

The agreement will be subject to LARPD review, Pound added.

Assemblyman Floyd Mori's bill to obtain state funding for the West Las Positas overpass in Pleasanton has received a number and been published.

Fiesta de Anza

Approximately 100 persons turned out Sunday afternoon to watch the arrival of and greet the de Anza party in the Livermore Valley at campsite 102 on Tesla Road.

Although a half hour late in arriving, the crowd's enthusiasm only grew stronger as the first sight of the trial of horses was spotted riding toward the monument that was to be dedicated with full ceremonies upon their arrival.

The young and the old listen attentively as the de Anza party was greeted by Carlos Dudley Cantua, past president, Los Californianos and dignitaries were introduced.

Dr. Jaun Ignacio Rodriguez, portraying the part of de Anza, responded to the greeting. Father John Dollard of St. Charles Borromeo Catholic Church blessed the monument. Boy Scout Troop 999 of Livermore performed the presentation and retirement of colors.

From the 11 miles out of Livermore campsite No.102 the party continued its voyage to the Livermore Library where a similar dedication program for the de Anza Plaque dedication was performed to a crowd of approximately 800.

The tolling of the Asbury church bell loudly announced the arrival of the de Anza partywhich had been on the road for four days orginating in Warm Springs.

Here at the library, Boy Scout Troop 999 again presented the colors; Helen Tirsell, mayor of Livermore read the city proclamation and special presentations were made to Mrs. Janet Newton, president of Livermore Heritage Guild and Gib Marguth, co-chairman of Livermore Bicentennial Organizations. Unveiling the plaque was performed by the Boy Scout Troop while Monsignor Robert Adams, St. Michael's gave the blessing.

Company K, First California Cavalry, Civil Way Skirmish Association gave a 21 gun salute.

Game booths, refreshments, Spanish dancing and a performance by the Pleasanton Bicentennial Community Band under the direction of Jerry Lapinsky added to the colorfulness of the festivities.

A full house enjoyed a steak barbecue in the Barn following the closing of the day's activities.

The principle of restricted choice is that when a player follows suit with, or wins a trick with, one of two equal cards, he would have had to play the actual card if he held just one. Thus he would have been equally likely to play the other card if he held both.

South wins the first trick with dummy's ace of clubs, leads a spade and plays his seven spot after East follows low. West wins with the jack and leads a heart. South wins, enters dummy with the queen of diamonds and leads a second trump. East plays low and South must decide whether or not to play the king.

East is a good enough player to duck twice with the ace and South has to decide whether or not to play his king.

The principle of restricted choice applies here. If West held both the queen and jack he might well have won the first trump with the queen. Therefore, the odds are two to one that East holds the queen. South plays a low spade and is home with the bacon.

The two to one has paid off this time. It won't do so all the time, but it is the way to handle things in the long run.

Ask the Jacobys

A Minnesota reader wants to know what we respond to partner's one notrump opening with:

♠ 10 6 5 ♥ A J 9 2 ♦ K 5 ♣ J 10 4.

His opening shows 16-18 points.

We recommend a two-club Stayman response, intending to bid three notrump next if he replies two diamonds or to raise two spades or two hearts to game. If not playing the Stayman convention you simply go directly to three notrump.

On sports

New team in town

Mike Zampa

In the beginning last year, before Charles O. Finley was banished to purgatory and Alvin Dark waived to the unemployment office, the Oakland A's had a spring phenom.

He was a young pitcher — Mike Norris. In just three major league outings, Norris pitched spectacularly. It was felt he would rescue the A's, who had lost Catfish Hunter through Finley's arrogance, or bungling, or heroic stand on principle, depending on your vantage point.

Dark dubbed Norris, Jeremiah.

He prayed that this young visage from on high would slip into the Oakland rotation and deliver the A's to their fourth world's championship.

But of course Norris developed serious elbow trouble before his fourth start for Dark. He underwent surgery to remove bone chips and didn't pitch again until Oakland had clinched its fifth straight American League West title.

This spring marks the second coming of young Norris. He has recovered from the elbow injury, reports say, and is now ready to make Oakland fans forget Catfish, Ken Holtzman or anyone else Finley sees fit to displace.

Over in San Francisco, there are a lot of young men praying that Norris succeeds in his comeback. They are semi-pro baseball players who fell victim to the A's right hander during his recuperative period.

To keep touch with the game while on the Oakland shelf, Norris pitched in The City last summer. He is a San Francisco native from Balboa High School. According to the stories, Norris made a shamble of the semi-pro circuit. They nearly had to change the scoring system so that any contact against the precocious right hander could be credited a base hit. Norris struck out everyone, the accounts said.

Amateur baseball can rest easy this summer, if Norris sticks. Of course it won't close up shop if he ever returns to City playgrounds. The semi-pro game has been around quite awhile — long before Mike Norris was born. Many of its products graduated to the big leagues.

Last year the Northern California Baseball Association, with teams stretched from Oakland and Antioch to Santa Rosa, dispatched six players to the pros. The scouts will be back in the Bay Area soon looking for more.

This time they might have to come all the way to Dublin.

The 10-team Nor Cal Association has granted a franchise to the Tri-Valley Cubs, to be managed by two Dublin men, Duane Forget and John McCuaig. They have compiled a 20-man roster of players who played high school baseball in Dublin, Pleasanton and Livermore. Two are servicemen on duty from Long Beach and San Diego. Another is playing high school ball right now and won't come available until his season ends.

Between Sunday, when the exhibition season opens at Dublin High School, and August, the Cubs will play nearly 50 games. Thirteen will be league contests in the Nor Cal circuit, opening its fifth year. The rest will be exhibitions in exotic locales such as Eureka.

Sunday's tuneup game with the Oakland Ravans could be the only home game for the Cubs this year. A high school field isn't suitable for baseball of this caliber, say McCuaig and Forget. They're scouting for a home park at St. Mary's College, or in community's as far away as Yountville.

This first game is merely a display for generous sponsors, who have plunked down $50 a piece to bankroll the Cubs. Each player will display the sponsor's logo on his uniform. You can't worry about esthetics when the tab for one season runs to $1,000.

Which raises the question of why Dublin needs another baseball team, at a steep cost, when the area is flooded with the game at little league levels and beyond.

"Because we've worked with kids who are up to an age now where they can't play ball any more," says McCuaig. "And they want to play. We've got an infielder, Randy Sekany, who used to play at Amador High School. He's dying to play for us, but it conflicts with his work schedule. He says he'll try to arrange his schedule around us. That's how bad these kids want to play."

"There's a lot of talent in this area going to waste," says Forget, "because there is no organized baseball for kids this age."

Most of the semi-pro players in the Nor Cal League are college athletes. They begin play when their school season concludes. They sign "agreements" with a semi-pro club binding their services exclusively for the summer.

The Cubs have one prep player on the roster, catcher Paul Miller of San Ramon High. When the EBAL season climaxes, he'll join the Tri-Valley team — on the condition that he's free to leave if hungry pro scouts come up with a proper offer.

Commissioner of the Nor Cal semi-pro league is Barney DeBisschop of San Francisco, a familiar name in amateur sports. He was a long-time director of the mammoth AAU basketball tournament. He is also commissioner of the Western Basketball Association. Pleasanton bought into that venture last year with the Tri-Valley Warriors, a team that went bankrupt in one season. DeBisschop left the WBA that season because it attempted to pay its players. It proved a dismal failure, and now he is back, running the program on an amateur level.

The Nor Cal baseball league has remained strictly amateur in status. It feeds on a fine tradition of semi-pro baseball in the Bay Area. Major league stars like Vada Pinson, Marty Keough and Billy Martin played amateur ball here.

McCuaig and Forget have released names of 19 roster players, with one more to be added.

Infielders — Jim McCuaig, Kurt Pedirson, John McGue, Randy Skekany, Rich Bailey.

Outfielders — Bob Chapman, Tony Candelara, Dean Busch, Steve Krekel, Dave Manousos, Brian Billy.

Pitchers — John Prieto, Larry Yackley, Steve Edwards, Bob Moore, Don Babbit, Ed Kukahiko.

Mustangs rout Foothill

The blue and gold of the Foothill High SchooL track team was slightly less than a blue streak Monday as they lost to the Monte Vista Mustangs on all three levels of competition in an EBAL make-up meet.

While the varsity was being dealt with handily to the tune of 76½ - 58½, the frosh - soph had their clocks cleaned 96-40 and the female Falcons were plucked by a 51-43 count.

Monte Vista started out with an early dominance in the varsity portion of the program. In the early going, it was a red shirt with an emblazoned Mustang taking the tape.

One thing Foothill did have dominance in was the long distances, all of their runners displayed a wicked kick, propelling them past the persons in red.

Most devastating of these displays was in the frosh-soph mile-run by the Falcon's Randy Sweeny. He paced the leader for the first three laps, then exploded as the signal was given for the gun lap. He left the field clean out of sight as the took the tape in 5:18.9.

The most interesting match-up of the day was between Bill Fowler of Monte Vista and Foothill's Craig "Blood" Johnson in the 220-yard run.

Fowler, according to one of his teammates, is the star of the Mustangs team. Johnson was praised by the same runner, saying he could overtake almost any lead in a relay.

What everyone hoped to be a barnburner proved to be a burner by Fowler only, as he turned on the jets on the homestretch to easily beat Johnson, who leaned over the line to take second by a head.

Earlier, Johnson had taken the anchor position in the mile relay for Foothill and, after being staked to a 10-yard deficit, easily outran the competition to take the tape in a come from behind victory.

It was a bad day for Foothill all around. The Falcon's frosh-soph pole vaulter, Phil Harper, was injured in a freak accident while jumping.

According to Monte Vista coach Chuck Spencer, Harper placed the pole in the wrong spot on his approach, causing him to go offline.

His spotter, Curt Burkstaller, said he hit the bar, bent it down, then slid off to the right, landing on his head and shoulder off the mat. He was taken to John Muir Hospital for observation.

The accident brought an air of somberness to both coaches, Spencer and Foothill coach Jack Keegan. Spencer said he was shaken up by the whole thing, Keegan said he was sorry to have one of his kids hurt.

Spencer singled out Dave Holsworth as his outstanding performer of the day, as he said he ran a good leg in the mile relay.

"Our times were terrible," he said, looking at Fowler's time in the 100-yard dash.

Mark Vantine, threw his lifetime best in the discus, 127-4, which was good enough for a first place finish.

Another of the Mustangs' winners was Brad Curry in the long jump, unusual only in the fact he is a runner first.

Spencer said Curry was hurt with a pulled muscle suffered at the Livermore relays and would not do any running in competition. Curry was followed by another runner in the long jump, Fowler of Monte Vista.

The Monte Vista varsity now sports a 1-2 record.

"We'll win a few of them this year," Spencer said.

Keegan was in a much less talkative mood this day. He said the mile relay team turned in a good job and they had a good meet overall. —Steve Dulas

Sports in brief

NorCal sends fourteen

Norcal Aquatics of Dublin will send 14 swimmers to DeAnza College in Cupertino this weekend for the AAU Far Western Age Group Championships.

Heading the list is national record holder Dana Davidson, who competed last weekend at the AAU Long Course Championships in Long Beach.

Dana swam the 200-meter freestyle and posted a 2:13 time in the trials. It was her first major swim championship outside of age group competition.

SR choice near

San Ramon High School is expected to name its new football coach sometime this week.

Principal Jim Henderson, who fired long-time varsity coach Fred Houston last November, says he will announce his choice tomorrow or Wednesday.

"We haven't made a decision yet," the first-year principal said yesterday. "But, we've narrowed it down to three candidates."

He added that all three are from the Bay Area and were selected from a field of eight prospects actually interviewed out of the 41 applications received.

Houston, who still coaches golf and teaches freshman orientation, was fired after the Wolves finished 0-5 in East Bay Athletic League play last season. However, Henderson was quick to cite differing athletic philosophies rather than the dismal season — a rarity for Houston — as the reason for the dismissal.

Remarks made at the time by San Ramon Valley Unified School superintendent Alan Petersdorf that Houston was fired because of "strong differences with the rest of the coaches" led to specualtion that the new coach would come from within the current San Ramon teaching staff.

However, Henderson refused to comment upon whether any of the final trio were local coaches.

Waves jolt Gaels

Defending West Coast Athletic Conference champion Pepperdine split a pair of games with host St. Mary's College Saturday to take the weekend series, two games to one.

Pepperdine, 4-2, in league play won Friday's contest, 2-1, and then won Saturday's opener, 6-3, before falling to Tom Candiotti and the Gaels, 2-1, in the nightcap.

Miles McAfee's Gaels own a 2-3 mark in West Coast competition.

The victory was the second against no losses for Candiotti, the former Concord hurler, in league competition. He is 7-1 for the season.

Golf-O-Rama

The Golf - O - Rama tournament to sponsor the Livermore Student Education Loan Fund will be held Saturday, April 17, at Las Positas Golf Course in Livermore

Entry fee is $12. The tournament is blind-bogey.

Registration may be completed at the Las Positas clubhouse, or by phone at 447-4062, or 447-5071.

The Student Loan Fund has provided more than $35,000 for college youngsters.

PALL meet

Pleasanton American Little League women's auxiliary will hold a team mothers' meeting this evening, 7:30, at the Aquatic Center on Black Ave.

This meeting has been rescheduled from April 20.

PALL dance

Pleasanton American Little League will hold its benefit dance Saturday, May 1, 9 p.m to 1 a.m., at the Veterans Hall on Main St.

Tickets are $7 per couple, available by phone at 462-1685, or through little league team mothers.

A cocktail party will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. to benefit the Golden Acorn branch of the Children's Home Society.

Former Don

Junior Bill Morelock of Pleasanton and formerly Amador Valley High School, will join his Washington State University golf teammates at the Oregon State and Oregon invitational tournaments this week.

Morelock placed sixth for the Cougars last weekend at the WSU Invitational in Pullman. Eleven teams competed.

Superiors win District III

The San Ramon Superiors captured the under-18 District III soccer championship last weekend with a 4-1 victory over the Livermore Rockets.

San Ramon finished the season with a 9-0-1 season's record.

Deanna Galant scored three goals to spark the offense. Peggy Baker had one. Assists went to Cindy Miller, Kathy Buckowatz and P.J. Moore.

Heidi Shelton was outstanding in the Superior net. Sandy Warburton, Terry Sinnott, Kathy William, Cheryl Thompson and Alicia Crumpler played well.

The Pleasanton Patriots cinched a second - place finish by thumping Dublin United, 6-2.

Jamie Watson highlighted the romp with three goals. Terrie McNatt, Kris Brittain and Kim Iverson also scored.

Mary Fleming and Sue Heinzel played well defensively.

Pleasanton United closed out with a 1-0 win over the: Livermore Shining Stars.

Cal vs. MV in key

Two of the East Bay's top ranked baseball teams meet this afternoon in Danville for the EBAL lead.

Surprisingly, one of them is California High.

The Grizzlies are rated 11th in the poll this week, the first time a Cal team has been rated in anything. They are also tied for the league lead after three games, and that's another first. Grizzlies have become accustomed to the dankness of the cellar in this, their first year of varsity athletic competition.

But victories over three established EBAL teams have left them tied with Monte Vista. The Mustangs, sixth ranked this week, are 6-0 overall this season, and out to make it seven at home today.

It will be California's home game, but again, the school does not have a baseball field.

It has players, though.

Chuck Cary, the sophomore left - hander who won a game at San Ramon in relief Friday, is expected to be the starting pitcher for Cal. He's the EBAL's second leading hitter at .500. He lashed out two of his team's eight hits against the Wolves, as Cal continues to be the most aggressive offensive team in the league.

Monte Vista may counter with Daryl Jardine who pitched the first four innings in a win over Amador Valley a week ago.

The Mustangs are paced by Greg Bisbee who is hitting 400 with one home run.

In other EBAL action this afternoon, Foothill travels to San Ramon, Granada is at Dublin, and Amador plays at Livermore.

The pair combined for 21 points and the overall title. Three groups tied for second at 19, and after a playoff, Doug Hewey and Betty McKowan cinched the runner up spot. Third was Bob Lim and Pat Kobierecki, followed by Doug Long and Kitty Anderson.

In Sunday's flight play, Bill Sands and Linda Birkett captured the fifth flight. Long and Anderson won in flight six, and Lim and Kobierecki captured the ninth flight.

Cigarette Flavor Decoded.

Scientists isolate tobacco ingredients most essential to taste –'Enriched Flavor'™ packed into new low tar MERIT.

By "cracking" cigarette smoke down into separate ingredients, researchers at Philip Morris have discovered very special "key" flavor units that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.'

The cigarette packed with 'Enriched Flavor' is MERIT. At 9 mg., one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

Yet MERIT actually packs the taste of cigarettes having more tar.

Up to 60% more tar.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tests Verify Taste

Thousands of smokers were tested. The results were conclusive. Against five current leading low tar brands, 9 mg. MERIT was reported by a significant majority of smokers to deliver more taste.*

Repeat: deliver more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported MERIT MENTHOL delivered as much—or more—taste.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL.

Both packed with 'Enriched Flavor.'

Both lower in tar than 98% of all cigarettes sold today.

Both turning in extraordinary flavor performances against higher tar competition.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT.
